Accessibility to Private Roads

Periodically, over the last few weeks, the Fire Department of the Municipality of La Pêche has been inspecting private roads on its territory in order to ensure that the configuration of a road does not hinder its accessibility for emergency service vehicles, such as in the case of a fire and any other type of emergency. In this regard, some roads are problematic, resulting in longer emergency response times than those set out in the risk coverage plan or affecting the dispatch of required resources during an intervention in accordance with said plan.

Although according to the National Building Code standards, a section of road or yard used as an entrance route for fire service must:

- Have a minimum radius of curvature of 12 m;
- Have a maximum gradient of 1 : 12.5 over a minimum distance of 15 m;
- Be designed in such a way as to have the load capacity for firefighting equipment, with concrete or asphalt surfacing, or other material permitting access under all kinds of weather;
- Include a turn-around area for each dead end section longer than 90 m;
- Connect to a public roadway;

Section 3.7, Chapter 3, of the Municipality of La Pêche By-law no. 06-492 in effect, stipulates that:

- The travelled portion and horizontal clearance required for a private road to be considered accessible must be no less than 4.5 m;
- The vertical height clearance from overhead wires, telephone lines, tree branches, etc. for a private road to be considered accessible must be no less than 4.0 m
- The travelled portion must be kept in good repair at all times, cleared of snow or graded as needed, to allow emergency vehicles through easily and safely.
